COMPLAINT

The State of Indiana, by Attorney General Steve Carter and Deputy Attorneys General Gabrielle J. Owens and Paula J. Beller, petitions the Court pursuant to the Indiana Home Loan Practices Act, Ind. Code § 24-9 et seq., and the Indiana Deceptive Consumer Sales Act, Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-1 et seq., for injunctive relief, restitution, civil penalties, costs, and other relief.

PARTIES

1. The Plaintiff, State of Indiana, is authorized to bring this action and to seek injunctive and other statutory relief pursuant to Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-4(c) and Ind. Code § 24-9-8-3.

2. Defendant Countrywide Financial Corporation, a Delaware corporation with a principal place of business in North Carolina, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation and is the successor corporation to another entity also named Countrywide Financial Corporation ("Old Countrywide"). Effective July 1, 2008, Old Countrywide merged with and

8. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants created an environment which incentivized the sale of pay option adjustable rate mortgages.

9. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants knowingly made deceptive or misleading representations or omissions regarding loan terms and charges including, but not limited to, the interest rate of the loan, the presence or the mechanics of the adjustable rate features of the loan, and the interest rate or the material costs of the proposed loan.

10. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants engaged in a practice of misleading borrowers about the presence, the significance, and/or meaning of a prepayment penalty, and/or the duration of a prepayment penalty on their loans.

11. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants engaged in acts and practices which resulted in fabricated and/or inflated income information for prospective borrowers. Plaintiff alleges that those borrowers would have failed to qualify for said loans without the fabricated or inflated income.

12. At this time, it is unknown how many Indiana consumers have been affected by the deceptive practices of Defendants.

Duane and Petra Carter

13. The following subparagraphs describe Duane and Petra Carter's ("Carters") experience with Defendants, which is illustrative of Defendants' business practices as alleged in this Complaint:

a. At all times relevant to this Complaint, the Carters are the owners of record for real property located at 1856 Rooses Lane, Indianapolis, Indiana 46217 ("Rooses Lane").

b. As of September 2006, the Carters had obtained two real estate secured loans on Rooses Lane. The first loan for eighty percent (80%) of the initial purchase price had a fixed interest rate of five point two percent (5.2%); the second loan for twenty percent (20%) of the initial purchase price had a variable interest rate.

c. As of September 2006, Petra Carter lost her job and began to draw state unemployment insurance benefits.

d. As a result of the Carters' reduced income, they were concerned that they might not be able to make the variable rate loan payment on Rooses Lane and wanted to refinance their two real estate secured loans into one.

e. In or about September 2006, the Carters contacted NMC Mortgage ("NMC") regarding the possibility of refinancing Rooses Lane.

f. On or about September 8, 2006, the Carters met with Nathan Kluger ("Kluger"), an employee of NMC, to discuss the possibility of refinancing Rooses Lane.

g. On or about September 8, 2006, the Carters provided Kluger with documentation evidencing their income including Petra Carter's unemployment benefits and Duane Carter's bimonthly salary of $1,400.

h. On or about September 9, 2006, Kluger completed a no-documentation loan application dated September 9, 2006, for a real estate secured loan with America's Wholesale Lender. On the application, Kluger identifies himself as the interviewer, and the interviewer's employer as America's Wholesale Lender.

i. The September 9, 2006 loan application indicates that Duane Carter's income is $14,000 per month.

j. The September 9, 2006 loan application indicates that Duane Carter has been employed for 28 years, but fails to identify Duane Carter's employer or in what capacity Duane Carter is employed.

k. Upon information and belief on multiple occasions from September 8, 2006, to September 14, 2006, Kluger made verbal representations to the Carters that the real estate secured loan would have a 1.75% interest rate for the first twelve (12) months and then vary thereafter.

l. On multiple occasions from September 8, 2006, to September 14, 2006, upon information and belief Kluger assured the Carters that the real estate secured loan did not have a prepayment penalty and that the Carters would be able to refinance after the initial interest rate period ended.

m. Upon information and belief, Kluger counseled the Carters not to shop around for any other loans as another broker would verify their credit which would adversely affect their credit score.

n. Upon information and belief, Kluger failed to explain the pay option feature of the Carters' real estate secured loan.

o. Upon information and belief, Kluger failed to explain the negative amortization feature of the Carters' real estate secured loan.

p. Upon information and belief, Kluger failed to explain that the 1.75% interest rate was in reality a qualifying rate only, and that the interest rate would adjust upward on the first payment date.

q. On or about September 14, 2006, the Duane Carter closed on the real estate secured loan for Rooses Lane.

r. The Carters did not receive copies of their loan documents until after the closing occurred and they were walking out of the room.

s. The Carters did not discover the true nature of their real estate secured loan until the second month when the interest payment adjusted up.

t. Some time after September 2006, the Carters attempted to refinance their new real estate secured loan and discovered the prepayment penalty.

u. NMC received $7,261.72 in fees from the Carters as a result of the Carters' real estate secured loan.

v. NMC received $12,601.56 from Countrywide in the form of a yield spread premium as a result of placing the Carters in this particular loan product.

Gary and Laurel Agin

14. The following subparagraphs describe Gary and Laurel Agin's ("Agin's") experience with Defendants, which is illustrative of Defendants' business practices as alleged in this Complaint:

a. At all times relevant, the Agins are the owners of record of real estate located at 13152 Duval Drive, Fishers, Indiana ("Duval Drive").

b. In or about December 2005, the Agins met with Bud Sirbu ("Sirbu"), a loan officer from Huntington Mortgage Group, to discuss the possibility of a new mortgage on Duval Drive.

c. Sirbu informed the Agins that Huntington Mortgage Group did not have a product which would meet their needs, but Sirbu stated that he knew of a product offered by Countrywide that he could arrange for the Agins.

d. Sirbu introduced Agins to John Stainbrook ("Stainbrook") of First American Mortgage Corporation ("First American") whom the Agins believed to be a representative of Countrywide.

e. Upon information and belief, the Agins were told by Sirbu and Stainbrook that the real estate secured loan would have a fixed rate of 1.75% for five years and then convert to an adjustable rate mortgage with an interest rate based upon prime rate plus three points.

f. On or about December 9, 2005, the Agins closed on their real estate secured loan.

g. Upon information and belief, at the December 9th closing, the Agins were again told that the rate would not adjust until year five of the loan.

h. At the December 9th closing, the Agins discovered the existence of a complex prepayment penalty addendum.

i. On or about December 12, 2005, the Agins contacted Countrywide to get clarification on what constituted a prepayment and to understand the size of the prepayment penalty.

j. On or about December 13, 2005, Stainbrook contacted the Agins on the last day the real estate secured loan could be rescinded. Stainbrook and the Agins discussed the prepayment penalty and concluded that the fee would be small compared to the amount that the Agins would save over the five year period.

k. On or after December 14, 2005, Scott Long ("Long") of Huntington Bank, at the urging of Sirbu, contacted the Agins regarding the possibility of a home equity loan. During the conversation, it was discovered that Long was unaware of the recent real estate secured loan.

l. After the conversation with Long, the Agins became concerned and decided to review their loan documents. The Agins discovered that the 1.75% rate was applicable until April 1, 2006 (three months), and not for five years as they had been promised.

m. On or about December 20, 2005, upon information and belief the Agins met with Sirbu who confirmed that the Agins were in fact told that the 1.75% rate was good for five years.

n. At the December 20 meeting, upon information and belief Stainbrook was contacted by phone and he confirmed that the Agins were in fact told that the 1.75% rate was good for five years and that Stainbrook would have documents drawn up to correct the error.

o. On or about December 2, 2005, Buddy Henn ("Henn"), account executive for Countrywide, and Stainbrook contacted the Agins to explain the terms of the loan. Henn and Stainbrook insisted that Agins had misunderstood the initial offer.

p. On or about December 31, 2005, the Agins notified The Huntington National Bank of the misrepresentation that had occurred with regard to their Countrywide real estate secured loan. The Huntington National Bank responded by refunding both the closing costs and prepayment penalty related to the loan.

q. The Agins immediately refinanced the Duval Drive property and paid off the Defendants' loan.

Anthony and Beverly Judson

15. The following subparagraphs describe Anthony and Beverly Judson's ("Judsons") experience with Defendants, which is illustrative of Defendants' business practices as alleged in this Complaint:

a. On or about September 14, 2005, the Judsons purchased real estate located at 275 Lane 650B Snow Lake, Fremont, Indiana 46737 ("Snow Lake") using a real estate secured loan.

b. The Judsons obtained their loan in Angola, Indiana, through Countrywide's local agent, Patti Wilson ("Wilson").

c. Upon information and belief on multiple occasions, Wilson assured the Judsons that their loan had a "soft" prepayment penalty which would allow them to sell their home without paying the penalty.

d. The Judsons discovered that their loan has a "hard" prepayment penalty which applies regardless of the reason the loan is paid.
